Joe Schlotfeld, owner of Two Men and a Snake, a local small business that cleans clogged pipes and does other plumbing work. Joe appeared with Rep. Lee Terry earlier this week when Terry announced he would vote to extend Bush era tax cuts across the board. Joe says that it is uncertainty over the costs of higher taxes that prevent him from hiring more help,and Joe outlines how the higher taxes trickle down and impact whether they hire and how higher taxes will cause inflation, as well as other negative impacts.

Click here to listen to the interview .

Click here for the KFAB website .