

Washington – Congressman Lee Terry released the following statement on reports Osama Bin Laden is dead: □

"This is tremendous news. One of democracy's greatest enemies has drawn his last breath and the most wanted man in the world has been brought to a measure of justice. Though the war on terror doesn't end with this announcement, it is a great victory for our nation.

-30-

"As we learn the details over the next few hours and days, let's remember those who protect our safety and our freedom every day from those who subscribe to Bin Laden's legacy of hate," Terry said.

Washington – Congressman Lee Terry released the following statement on reports Osama Bin Laden is dead:

"This is tremendous news. One of democracy's greatest enemies has drawn his last breath and the most wanted man in the world has been brought to a measure of justice. Though the war on terror doesn't end with this announcement, it is a great victory for our nation.

"As we learn the details over the next few hours and days, let's remember those who protect our safety and our freedom every day from those who subscribe to Bin Laden's legacy of hate," Terry said.

-30-