U.S. Representatives Lee Terry (R-NE) tonight issued the following statement regarding President Bush's nationally televised address:

"This is perceptibly a decisive point for President Bush's tactics and vision in Iraq. The new strategy is 'all in'.

"While I appreciate the President being contrite, my focus is whether we are going in a new direction that will allow us to more quickly secure Iraq, stabilize the region, and then begin bringing our troops home. If adding 20,000 additional troops to properly train and support Iraqi security forces will accomplish those goals, then I support the President's plan.

"Hopefully, this plan will get us to that point sooner rather than later."
