

WASHINGTON- Congressman Lee Terry issued the following statement about a new and interactive website to engage the American public to become involved in finding solutions to our country's challenges. The new website, www.americaspeakingout.com, launched today and is designed to shape the direction our country should be going.

"This website isn't about politics, it is about saving our country," said Congressman Lee Terry. "Like my constituents, I am outraged with the excessive government intrusion into our lives, the out of control spending and record unemployment numbers in the United States. America Speaking Out allows each and every American to share ideas and potential solutions to get our country back on the right path. I believe the best ideas are in the minds of the American people and together we can make our country a better place."
