

□ Cap-and-trade would hurt U.S.

I thank Nebraska House Reps. Lee Terry, Jeff Fortenberry and Adrian Smith for not supporting the cap-and-trade bill. They represent us well!

I believe this bill would ruin the country, making us less competitive with the rest of the world. China, India and many other countries would not adhere to cap-and-trade and stand to gain from it as a result.

I believe that only those states that support cap-and-trade should incorporate it.

Those that don't, shouldn't have to. Those that do support it would lose jobs and have higher energy costs and unemployment.

The liberals say cap-and-trade would create jobs, but that would not be enough to offset the loss of jobs and not at the pay levels currently in the oil and coal industries.

It would cost each family dearly to support this in higher energy costs, food prices and the cost of everything else that is manufactured. The only thing cap-and-trade would do is give the Obama administration more control over our daily lives.

Michael Lovejoy, Omaha

