

Public Pulse letter that appeared in the Omaha World Herald on Tuesday, May 19, 2009:

Thanks to U.S. Reps. Jeff Fortenberry, Lee Terry and Adrian Smith, all of Nebraska, for co-sponsoring the Federal Reserve Transparency Act of 2009. Thanks also to Nebraska State Treasurer Shane Osborn, who signed an open letter to Congress calling for support of H.R. 1207.

In these days of economic uncertainty, the American people deserve to know what our financial institutions are up to.

By supporting H.R. 1207, Nebraska's three representatives and state treasurer have taken bold stands for transparency and accountability in all areas of government. Hopefully, U.S. Sens. Ben Nelson and Mike Johanns, both of Nebraska, will decide to do the same with the companion bill in the Senate.

Laura Ebke, Crete, Neb.
