

West Virginia delegation supports Keystone pipeline

Posted: Dec 20, 2011 4:08 PM CST Updated: Jan 03, 2012 12:19 PM CST

By Taylor Kuykendall, Reporter - email

If President Barack Obama is looking for support in holding off on approval of the 1,661-mile Keystone XL pipeline, West Virginia's jobs-focused delegation is not where it's to be found.

Nearly all of West Virginia's elected officials in Washington say they support expedited review of issuing a permit for the crude oil pipeline.

Follow link for full article.